

MARISHKA - Your Personal Guide in Life.

Sometimes, All It Takes Is A Little Guidance

We wouldn't be human if we didn't experience periods when life seems overwhelming, when it's difficult to know how to cope with challenges and make decisions that will allow us to move forward. In these times of need, we tend to seek out family and friends for guidance and support.

There are times though, even with well-meaning help and advice from those closest to us, we need an outside, more objective assessment that will provide a fresh viewpoint. It's essential and healthy to get assistance from someone who will listen, respect our values, and provide us with the clarity to make the right choices. That someone is Marishka.

With years of experience in the corporate world, Marishka is grounded in the realities of everyday life. After 20 years in private practice, "people see me as an advisor, mentor, life coach, personal consultant and trusted confidante," Marishka explains. We're all born with intuition, but with her extensive background and training, Marishka has a unique ability to guide people in the right direction. From relationship issues to financial concerns and business solutions, she can provide you with alternative paths and options and offers her clients from around the globe both telephone and in-person consultations.

Marishka is trained in the art of Hypnotherapy, for removing fears and blocks and Numerology, for finding your life purpose, uncovering your strengths and overcoming your challenges.
